Colloidal Silver Ionic

This particular colloidal ionic silver is produced with low frequency. This product is versatile and will enable you in various ways to make your living environment and lifestyle healthier and purer. Also for affected areas on the skin.

For example, use Colloidal Silver 10ppm undiluted or as a spray to moisten surfaces, let it soak in and wipe dry with a dry cloth after 5 minutes. You can also moisten a microfibre cloth with undiluted Colloidal Silver 10ppm and use it to clean more sensitive surfaces such as touch screens, mobile phones and keyboards.

Scientific research and literature show that colloidal silver has a particularly positive effect.

For external use. Apply undiluted to the desired area 2-3 times a day.

Ingredients: 100% purified distilled water, ionic silver.

Warning: Do not expose to direct sunlight and temperatures above 50°C. Store away from magnetic fields. Keep out of reach of young children.

Colloidal Silver Nano

This particular colloidal nano silver is produced with the high-frequency voltage discharges of the Multiwave Oscillator. This process produces a high-energy colloidal solution with pure Nano silver particles of a broad spectrum. This ensures improved performance.

The colloidal nano silver contains a small amount of colloidal nano gold to enhance and enrich the properties of the silver.

This product is versatile and will enable you in various ways to make your living environment and lifestyle healthier and purer. Also for affected areas of the skin.

Scientific research and literature show that colloidal silver has a particularly positive effect.

For external use. Apply undiluted to the desired area 2 to 3 times a day.

Ingredients: 100% purified distilled water, nano silver particles, nano gold particles.

Warning: Do not expose to direct sunlight and temperatures above 50°C. Store away from magnetic fields. Keep out of reach of young children.

Colloidal Gold Nano

This special and extremely powerful colloidal nano gold is produced with the high-frequency voltage discharges of the Multiwave oscillator. This process produces a high-energy colloidal solution with pure nano gold particles of a broad spectrum. This ensures improved performance.

The colloidal nano gold contains a small amount of colloidal nano silver to enhance and enrich the properties of the gold. This product is versatile and will enable you in various ways to make your living environment and lifestyle healthier and purer. Also for affected areas of the skin.

Scientific research and literature show that gold has a particularly positive effect.

For external use. Apply 5-6 drops undiluted to the desired area 2-3 times a day.

Ingredients: 100% purified distilled water, nano gold particles, nano silver particles.

Warning: Do not expose to direct sunlight and temperatures above 50°C. Store away from magnetic fields. Keep out of reach of young children.

Colloidal Zinc

This particular colloidal zinc combined with nano silver is produced with the high-frequency voltage discharges of the Multiwave Oscillator. This process creates a high-energy, broad-spectrum colloidal solution, this ensures better performance. The colloidal zinc contains a small amount of colloidal nano silver to enhance and enrich its properties.

This product is versatile and will enable you to make your lifestyle healthier and purer. Apply to desirable areas.

Zinc is one of the most important trace elements needed by the body for keeping the skin healthy, among other things, and it is protective.

For external use. Apply undiluted to the desired area 2 to 3 times a day.

Ingredients: 100% purified distilled water, ionic zinc, nano silver particles.

Warning: Do not expose to direct sunlight and temperatures above 50°C. Store away from magnetic fields. Keep out of reach of young children.

Colloidal Magnesium

This particular colloidal magnesium is produced by electrolysis. The colloidal nano silver, added to this beautiful product, is made with the high-frequency voltage discharges of the Multiwave Oscillator. This process creates a high-energy colloidal solution. It provides a broad spectrum and enhances and enriches the action of the magnesium.

This product is versatile and will enable you to make your lifestyle healthier and purer. Apply to the skin for desirable areas of tension.

Magnesium is a macro-mineral required by the body for e.g. normal muscle function.

For external use. Apply undiluted to the desired spot 2 to 3 times a day.

Ingredients: 100% purified distilled water, ionic magnesium, nano silver particles.

Warning: Do not expose to direct sunlight and temperatures above 50°C. Store away from magnetic fields. Keep out of reach of young children.

Our products are packaged in high-quality UV glass bottles for guaranteed enhanced shelf life and energetic performance.

UV glass works by selective light filtration. It blocks the harmful part of the light spectrum, including most of the visible light and especially UV-B and UV-C light (ultraviolet light with a wavelength between 315 to 400 nm), which is known for its ability to degrade organic materials. At the same time, the glass lets through certain parts of the light spectrum that actually have a preserving effect. The transmission of UV-A and infrared light ensures that bioenergetic values in the product are preserved, contributing to improved stability and long-term effectiveness of our nano and cosmetic products.

Check our website for a full overview of UV glass products, where you can also order them without contents!
